FINANCIAL AID ASSISTANCE NIGHT OFFERED AT NORTHWEST IOWA COMMUNITY COLLEGE

With the rising tuition costs, paying for college is a large hurdle for many people to attend college. Northwest Iowa Community College is partnering with Iowa College Access Network (ICAN) to participate in Iowa College Goal Week. NCC will be offering a FREE Financial Aid Assistance Night Tuesday, February 21 from 5:00pm-7:30pm in room 514 in Building H on NCC's campus.

Volunteers will help with:

- Filing the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid).
- Get advice from financial aid experts.
- Receive scholarship information.
- Learn about the process and YOUR next steps.

“This free night of assistance is offered to all students and their families no matter where they plan to attend college,” said Karna Hofmeyer, Director of Financial Aid. “We are aware that some people will not have their taxes done by this time, but you can come and ask questions and learn how to fill out your FAFSA forms later,” Hofmeyer said.

No appointments are needed, but be sure to bring along your 2011 tax information and current W-2's.

Bilingual assistance will be available. For more information: call 800-352-4907, ext. 126, email finaid@nwicc.edu or visit the Iowa College Goal Week website at www.IowaCGS.org.
