Northwest Iowa Community College is Offering a Free Financial Aid Assistance Night

Northwest Iowa Community College will be hosting a free Financial Aid Assistance Night in cooperation with Iowa College Access Network (ICAN). This event is designed to help individuals looking to go to college and their families complete the application for Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), a federally required form to receive financial aid.

“This free night of assistance is offered to all students and their families no matter where they plan to attend college,” said Norma Azpeitia, Enrollment Management/Advisor.

Families are encouraged to bring their completed taxes along so they can complete the process during the session.

“We are aware that some people will not have their taxes done by this time but you can come and ask questions and learn how to fill out your FAFSA forms later,” Azpeitia said.

Bilingual assistance will be available. The Financial Aid Assistance Night will be held Tuesday, February 22, from 5 to 7:30 p.m. in Building H, Room 514.
